INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Vancouver Public Library Foundation

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Vancouver Public Library Foundation (the "Entity"), which comprise:

- the statement of financial position as at June 30, 2023
- the statement of operations for the year then ended
- the statement of changes in net assets for the year then ended
- the statement of cash flows for the year then ended
- and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies

(hereinafter referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Entity as at June 30, 2023, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the "Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our auditor's report.

We are independent of the Entity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. Other information comprises the information, other than the financial statements and the auditor's report thereon, included in the 2023 Annual Report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not and will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit and remain alert for indications that the other information appears to be materially misstated.

We obtained the information, other than the financial statements and the auditor's report thereon, included in the 2023 Annual Report as at the date of this auditor's report.

If, based on the work we have performed on this other information, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact in the auditor's report.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Entity's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

 Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Notes to Financial Statements

Year ended June 30, 2023

1. Nature of operations:

Vancouver Public Library Foundation (the "Foundation") exists to raise monies for capital projects, book acquisitions, equipment needs, and program development at the Vancouver Public Library (the "Library").

The Foundation is incorporated under the Canada Not-For-Profit Corporations Act. The Foundation is classified as a registered charity under the Income Tax Act (Canada) and, accordingly, is not subject to income taxes.

2. Significant accounting policies:

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations and include the following significant accounting policies:

(a) Revenue recognition:

The Foundation follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred or the restrictions are met.

Donations and contributions in-kind are recorded at fair value at the time of receipt when such value can be reasonably determined.

Legacy endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in net assets. Investment income is recognized as general fund revenue in the period earned, unless the investment income earned on the endowment is restricted, in which case the amount is included in deferred investment income and recognized when the restrictions are met.

Government assistance toward current expenses or revenues is included in the determination of excess revenue over expenses for the period. Government assistance toward current expenses is recorded as a reduction to the related expenditures, provided there is reasonable assurance that the Foundation has complied and will continue to comply with all the conditions.

(b) Cash and cash equivalents:

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and highly liquid investments readily redeemable with term to maturity within 90-days of acquisition. The Foundation did not hold any cash equivalents as of June 30, 2023 and 2022.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(c) Tangible capital assets:

Tangible capital assets additions are initially recorded at cost. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over the assets' estimated useful lives, with amortization taken in the year the assets are put into use, at the following rates:

Asset	Years
Office equipment	3 vears

The Foundation reviews its tangible capital assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset no longer has or has reduced long-term service potential to the organization. If such condition exists, an impairment loss is measured at the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its fair value or replacement cost.

(d) Financial instruments:

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Equity instruments that are quoted in an active market are subsequently measured at fair value with any changes being recorded through the statement of operations. All other financial instruments are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value. The Foundation has elected to carry its investments except guaranteed investment certificates, at fair value.

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

Financial assets carried at cost or amortized cost are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. To the extent that impairment is determined, the carrying value of the instrument will be reduced. Impairment losses are reversed to the extent of any recovery in value, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

(e) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy:

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Canadian government introduced the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy ("CEWS") to assist eligible organizations who had lost a certain percentage of their qualifying revenue. The Canadian government ended the program in October 2021. As such, no CEWS funding was received during the year ended June 30, 2023 (2022 - $67,628).

4. Investments held for endowment:

10. Related party transactions and balances:

During the year ended June 30, 2023, the Library, a party related through economic interest, transferred to the Foundation $6,049 (2022 - $2,639) in donations received by the Library on behalf of the Foundation. These amounts are included in donations and grants revenue in the statement of operations.

Year ended June 30, 2023

10. Related party transactions and balances (continued):

The amount due from the Library as at June 30, 2023 of $7,066 (2022 - $728), relates to donations received by the Library on behalf of the Foundation to be provided to the Foundation.

Transactions with the Library arise in the normal course of operations and are measured at the exchange amount.

11. Financial instruments:

(a) Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk refers to the risk that the fair value of financial instruments or future cash flows associated with the instruments will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The Foundation is exposed to interest rate risk on its bond fund.

The risks associated with investments are managed through the Foundation's investment policy and controls.

(b) Credit risk:

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty may default on its contractual obligations resulting in a financial loss. The Foundation manages its credit risk on investments and cash balances by holding these financial assets at high credit quality Canadian financial institutions. Substantially all of the Foundation's cash is held with one Canadian chartered bank.

(c) Market price risk:

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates or interest rates will affect the Foundation's income or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. The objective of market risk management is to control market risk exposures within acceptable parameters while optimizing return on investment. The Foundation manages its investment portfolio to earn investment income and invests as approved by the Board.

There was no significant change in risk exposure except for investments made by the Foundation during the year which are held at fair value. The Foundation believes that it is not exposed to significant currency or liquidity risk arising from its financial instruments.
